The image shows a musical score for a choir and piano. It consists of three staves. The top two staves are for the vocal parts (Soprano and Bass), and the bottom two staves are for the piano accompaniment. The music is in 4/4 time. The lyrics 'an - gels sing.' are written under the vocal staves. A 'rit.' (ritardando) marking is present at the end of the first vocal line and the end of the piano accompaniment line. A large red watermark 'Preview Only! Purchase' is overlaid diagonally across the score.

On This Day Angels Sing is a beautiful new setting of a traditional Latin text from the Piae Cantiones (1582), with English translation adapted by the composer. Appropriate for performance by both school and church choirs for holiday concerts and Christmas worship, it is available in both S.A.T.B. and S.A.B. voicings.

The “gloria in excelsis Deo” refrain (mm. 25-29 & 41-45) features gorgeous sequencing harmonies, evoking images of a heavenly angel choir singing “glory to God in the highest.” Performances of these sections may be further enhanced by the use of sign language. The use of signing is optional but is highly recommended. For instructions, please see page 8.

Both school and church choirs may wish to precede the performance of this work with the singing of the traditional Latin chant based upon the text, Personent hodie. For performance by church choirs, suggested corresponding lectionary readings include Psalm 85: 8-13, Isaiah 9: 1-6 & 40: 9-11, and Luke 2: 1-20.

Greg Gilpin is a widely published choral composer and arranger with a degree in vocal music education from Northwest Missouri State University. Frequently in demand as a choral clinician and choreographer, he is also involved in the gospel music industry as a songwriter and singer, working with artists such as Bill and Gloria Gaither, Ray Boltz and Sandi Patty.

The following signs may be used whenever the refrain "Gloria in excelsis Deo" (glory to God in the highest) is sung. Baritones will sign "glory" while soprano and alto will sign "glory, God, heaven." For best effect, soprano and alto should be positioned together. The signs should be rhythmic, especially if the entire choir is signing.

(glory)

IN EXCELSIS
(in the highest,
or in the highest heaven)

Open hands facing in, circle toward you, then pass right open hand under left hand & up, slightly above eye level (opt. circle downturned palms around each other & draw them out to sides, slightly above eye level)

DEO
(God)

Make a "G" by pointing index & thumb out, curling remaining fingers in; point the "G" forward, draw it up and back down, opening the palm, which is facing left
